

Making the Grassroots Grow:

Building and Maintaining Effective Byway Organizations

Authors:

Anne Tellett

Kevin Skwira-Brown

Cheryl Newman

©2003 Prepared by America's Byways Resource Center. The Resource Center is a joint venture of the Arrowhead Regional Development Commission and the Federal Highway Administration.

About the National Scenic Byways Program

Under the National Scenic Byways Program, the U.S. Secretary of Transportation recognizes roads that are outstanding examples of scenic, historic, recreational, cultural, archaeological and/or natural qualities. The first All-American Roads and National Scenic Byways were designated in 1996. Nominations were submitted by local communities and state and federal land managing agencies. These designations provide a compass for people from all over the world to explore America's treasured open roads. The National Scenic Byways Program is designed to recognize outstanding byways that celebrate the pride and diversity of American communities, as well as the stunning landscapes that have shaped lives for countless generations. Contact the National Scenic Byways Program, Federal Highway Administration at 800-429-9297 or visit www.byways.org.

About America's Byways Resource Center

America's Byways Resource Center serves as a resource for people and organizations involved with nationally designated scenic byways. The staff assists state coordinators, local byway groups, volunteers and other people associated with the federal Scenic Byways program. The Resource Center provides education and training resources, conducts and shares research and case studies, maintains a network of experts, operates a resource library and facilitates communication. The Resource Center is a joint venture of the Arrowhead Regional Development Commission and the Federal Highway Administration. Contact the Resource Center at 800-429-9297 or center@byways.org.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Making the Grassroots Grow:

Building and Maintaining Effective Byway Organizations

PREFACE

What's so Important about Organizations?
A Message from America's Byways Resource Center	iii
The Importance of Grassroots Leadership:
Planting the Seeds of Success	v
Who's in the Lead?	viii
The Role of Your Byway Organization	x

YOUR PURPOSE

Grassroots Organizations:
The Heart and Soul of the National Program	3
Organizational Building Blocks:
Are You Ready to Go to Work?	7
Case Study / Florida Scenic Highways Program (Florida):
Dedicated to Building Strong Byway Organizations	10
Case Study / Cherokee Foothills Scenic Highway (South Carolina):
Renewing a Byway Organization	13
Charting Your Course for Success:
Vision and Mission Statements Start the Plan	16

YOUR PARTNERS

Share the Byway's Purpose:
Creating an Atmosphere of Cooperation	33
Building Participation:
Ways to Involve People in Your Plans	36
Broad Support:
Stakeholder Teams Build Better Byways	39
Case Study / Crowley's Ridge Parkway (Arkansas):
Public Participation Pays Off	44

Creative Collaborations:
 Community Partnerships Pave the Way48

Partnering Includes the Public:
 Ways to Foster Participation56

YOUR STRUCTURE

Types of Organizational Structures:
 Several Models Work for Byways65

Start Simple:
Citizen Groups Focus on Results72

Case Study / Native American Scenic Byway (South Dakota):
 Committed to Okiciapiye—Helping Each Other77

Case Study / The Lincoln Highway (Illinois):
 Formalizing A Citizens’ Organization80

The Benefits of Nonprofit Organization:
 Advantages for Byway Groups84

What Is a Foundation?
 Organizations Formed to Give and to Serve90

What Is a Friends Group?
 Helping Hands from Nonprofit Organizations92

Case Study / Seaway Trail National Scenic Byway (New York):
 Making Big Dreams Come True94

Case Study / Turquoise Trail National Scenic Byway
 (New Mexico): When Everyone Is a Volunteer99

Cooperative Agreements:
 Continuity through Collaboration103

Case Study / Top of the Rockies Scenic and Historic Byway
 (Colorado): A Three-County Model of Teamwork107

Single Government Entity at the Lead:
 Planning and Oversight from One Source111

Case Study / Flaming Gorge-Uintas Scenic Byway (Utah):
 A Federal Agency Plays the Leading Role116

Case Study / The Pacific Coast National Scenic Byway (Oregon):
 ODOT Partners with the Public119

Case Study / Loess Hills Scenic Byway (Iowa):
 Building an Organization Focused on the Byway123

The Joint Powers Entity:

Formal Government Partnership127

Case Study / Edge of the Wilderness National Scenic Byway
 (Minnesota): Consolidating Leadership and Rural Resources . .130

Customized Organizational Structures:

Finding the Perfect Fit134

Case Study / Creole Nature Trail District (Louisiana):
 Created by State Legislation, Fueled by Pride136

Multi-State Organizations:

Finding Ways to Work Together140

Case Study / Utah Highways 191 and 163:
 Creating a Community of Communities147

Case Study / Ohio Byway Links:
 Connecting for Success149

YOUR GROUP DYNAMICS

Working with Volunteers:

Find Them and Keep Them!157

Why Do People Volunteer?

And Why Don't They?162

The Importance of Ground Rules:

Set the Stage for Effective Meetings166

What Makes Meetings Productive?

Steps to Use Time Wisely168

Committees:

What Makes Them Likable? (Or Not?)175

Decision-Making Alternatives:

Oh, Those Pros and Cons180

Involving Partners:

Share the Decision-Making Process188

Leading the Way:

Byway Leadership190

Looking for Leadership: Ten Ideas for Recruiting New Leaders	197
Power Up: Building Positive Organizational Power	199
Reaching Out: Tailoring Your Community Relations	202
Managing Conflict: Striving for Positive Change	208
YOUR PLAN
What's Next? Building on Your Corridor Management Plan	219
Goals, Objectives and Work Plans: Tools to Succeed	224
Goals and Objectives: Different but Equally Important	227
Case Study / Gold Belt Tour Scenic and Historic Byway (Colorado): An Example of Ten Goals	231
Northwest Passage Scenic Byway (Idaho): Mission-Based Goals	233
APPENDIX
Appendix A: Organizational Structures	242
Appendix B: Understanding and Managing Liability: Keep the Law on Your Side	244
Appendix C: Types of Tax-Exempt Organizations: An Overview Based on IRS Standards	247
Appendix D: Resources	248
Appendix E: Sample Nonprofit Bylaws	260
Appendix F: Sample Interagency Agreement	266
Appendix G: About the Authors	271
Appendix H: Acknowledgments	272

TRAINING MATERIALS

Assessing Your Byway's Efforts for Inclusion:
An Organizational Exercise

Byway Self-Assessment